

Gruppe 24

Group Contract

Our Group Foundation

The working policy for the group

Our working policy entails prioritizing frequent in-person meetings. As we are all relatively new to programming, we consider this the most suitable way of working. We all commit to communicating with the group, both in practical aspects, such as informing members of late arrivals and illness, as well as in terms of personal and academic disagreements. The group is, first and foremost, a learning environment, and our working policy reflects this by welcoming experimentation and curiosity, even if this compromises efficiency.

Meetings

The frequency with which we will meet

We will meet between two and four times a week. As a minimum, we will meet on Tuesday (09:00–15:00) and Thursday (10:00–16:00). On Tuesdays, we will create a weekly plan, including the focus and goals for the week. On Thursdays, we will discuss the necessity of additional meetings, namely on Friday and/or Sunday. The meetings are expected to last around six hours, with the possibility of homework.

Where we will work

Our default location will be ITU; however, we will make an active effort to meet in other places to improve our working environment. Furthermore, we will try to work in more homely settings, where we can cook meals together.

Goals

How well we plan to perform in this course

Our main goal is to learn as much as possible. Secondly, we want to prioritize the well-being of our group members, knowing that this will be a significant and, at times, frustrating project. Lastly, and of lesser importance than our learning and well-being, is academic performance.

Furthermore

Cake Agreement

We will take turns bringing cake or other baked goods/sweets to the Tuesday meeting.

Conflict management

In case of a disagreement an impartial third-person mediator will be consulted in order to solve the issue, before conflict emerges. All members of the group have the responsibility of voicing disagreements.
